

Around the World in 80 Minutes

In 1872, Phileas Fogg made his way around the world in 80 days in the pages of Jules Verne's adventure novel of the same name. In October, join your conductor and Tujunga's own History Hunter, Craig Durst, on an unforgettable journey around the world. Using only nineteenth century technology, you will be transported from location to location, circumnavigating the globe in little more than an hour! Rocket powered stagecoaches you ask? No! Nuclear assisted steam trains? Not a chance. Instead, you will be beamed about via a goodly number of antique stereoscopes that will be passed amongst the audience. A hand-picked collection of stereo cards will take you on a fantastic journey of exotic places, traveling around the world at a record pace. Finally, arriving back home in the green Verdugo Hills.
